

I said to my parents, “How dare you drag me to another country. I’d just left all my friends behind. I really don’t want to go.”

AMY

I miss food because it’s so delicious. And the friends I grew up with. But no, there’s not actually many things I miss from there.

PIOTR

Most of the people wanted to just stay back with their parents in the comforts of the home and everything. I just wanted to go out and explore.
